Fairbanks-Morse "Z" Farm Engines

Big reductions in prices have just been announced on "Z" engines. Remember that one or more of these engines on your farm will lighten your labor and help you get more work done.

The manufacturers have accepted their loss—we have accepted ours. You've been waiting for just this opportunity to buy at lower prices. Now you can do it.

Come in soon and let us show you the "Z" and prove the quality, design and workmanship, which convinced a lot of our farmer friends in this community that it is the one farm engine to buy.

WANTS WOOL POOL FOR 4 STATES

The following letter shows that a move is gaining headway for the pooling of the entire wool clip of the mountain states.

To the Flockmasters of Idaho, Montana, Utah and Wyoming: Gentlemen:

There never was a time when the flockmaster of the Northwest needed as large a price for his wool clip as he needs at this time; there never was a clip of wool from this section that cost as much as the 1920 wool clip cost; there never was a time when it was as difficult for the flockmaster to obtain the approximate cost of his clip of wool as it is at this time; and there never was a time when all the flockmasters in this section could work together, through a commission, for their complete mutual benefit as they can at this time.

I believe that if we do not join hands in pooling this wool and do not place it in the hands of one commission of our best men to sell for us, the flockmasters will not receive twenty-five cents on the dollar of its actual cost, and I believe too that eighty per cent of our flockmasters will find themselves utterly ruined before the close of the present year.

I believe that I have a complete mailing list of all the flockmasters in the four states named above and I am sending this letter to them, 3890 in all, hoping they will join in a pool of this wool, place it in the hands of a commission of nine of our best men, empowering such commission to handle the sale of this wool for the year of 1920, where it has not been sold, and for the year 1921. The commission should be composed of two men from each of the four states, selected by the flockmasters in their respective states. A ninth commissioner should be selected by all the flockmasters in the four states to the end the commission would never be locked and unable to act.

There are in the four states for the two years approximately one hundred and thirty million pounds of wool. Our commission with amount of wool to sell will be able to command the attention of all who desire to purchase wool.

A hundred million dollar foreign trade finance corporation is being formed and it is possible that all this wool if pooled may be sold through this corporation to the nations of Europe. An individual flockmaster would be unable to get the hearing from this corporation or from foreign nations that this commission would be able to obtain.

This commission should be selected in the very same manner the directors of the Federal Reserve Banks are selected. Under the plan each flockmaster would have the right to nominate men of his own choosing, send the nominations in, then ballots would be prepared showing the nominations and the balloting would be on these ballots with the knowledge of the nominations as to number.

I am enclosing herewith the proposed agreement for signing by those flockmasters who are willing to join the pool. I believe this commission of nine of our strongest and best men can come nearer obtaining the right price for this wool than any one flockmaster can obtain for his own wool. The very nature of all traffic is that where a few deal with many, the few dictate as to price. The few wool buyers have for all these years been dictating to the many flockmasters. The merchants being few in number as compared with the many who buy have ever been able to dictate as to price and so it will be with us. If we constitute one commission to handle this wool for the many flockmasters it will be able to dictate to the textile manufacturers as to what they shall pay.

Now as to the commission, I suggest it should have all its actual expenses and such compensation as to time as may be just, not exceeding the usual cost of marketing these wools through established houses and we can safely leave that to the commission with the limit fixed by the established rates for such service.

Sign and return the enclosed agreement to me with your nominations as early as you can. On March 1st, if this agreement is numerous signed, the ballots for selecting the commission will be sent out for the voting. If you join the pool and if your wool has not been sold, I suggest that you do not let it be sold till the commission is functioning, and let it handle the sale. I make the prediction that if ninety per cent of the wool in the four states is placed in this pool, and if a proper commission is established, that the commission will sell more than half of the wool produced in the entire United States. It is not proposed to go to any particular expense in the marketing of this wool but that all the present facilities be utilized and that it will be the duty of the commission largely to say at what price one particular grade of wool of equal quality in all respects shall sell for. There is no reason why one grade of wool, having the same qualities in all respects should sell at different prices, yet this same thing is done year after year. As it has been heretofore wool has been sold as a matter of bargaining and not as a matter of quality.

We have no men in these four states who are too big to do this service at this time for our flockmasters and principal industry.

As to who I am. I have resided in Salmon, Idaho, for twenty-six years. Fourteen years of that time practiced law and for twelve years I have devoted my entire time and talents to the affairs of the Citizens National Bank and during these twelve years as a banker I have had very considerably to do with the flockmasters of my county in the way of marketing their wool and advising with them on the many problems that confront the flockmaster. I know his needs are urgent at this time and it is to better the flockmaster that I take this subject up with you. Do your thinking and let me hear from you promptly.

Yours very truly,

G. B. QUARLES.

P. S.—Please suggest to your local newspaper that this letter be published as a matter of news.

THE NEW PLAYGROUND

The new district school playground will be a constant satisfaction to those who came out and helped to make it. It will also be a source of community pride. Such school buildings deserve proper surroundings. They are monuments to the intelligence and energy of Iron county. It is the logical thing to lift them out of the mud and set them on a modern playground.

R. L. Jones, secretary of the Commercial Club, is in Salt Lake City on business connected with the work on the new hotel.

Mr. W. W. Owens, county agent leader for the State, will be in Iron county next week to help in farm bureau work. He will hold meetings with the farmers in all sections of the county to consider farm problems and help outline projects.

BUCKHORN NOTES

Word was received by telephone last Thursday morning from Provo of the death of Jessie Edwards, who was accidentally killed at the place where he was employed. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Keith and Mr. and Mrs. Osmund Hutchins went to Provo to attend the funeral services of the unfortunate young man Mrs. Keith and Mrs. Hutchins being sisters of the deceased.

John Limb of Adamsville was visiting with his son and family last week.

Martin Lamb of Paragonah is here for a few days visiting with relatives and friends.

J. W. Edwards, formerly of Gunnison, Utah, now owner of a valley between Escondido and San Diego in California, was in Cedar the first of the week looking for people who would like to farm in California, in a section that has no extremes of temperature.
